

I live in Indiana and I take advantage of Indiana's "No-Call List". Since I have signed up for the "no-call list" my daily phone calls went from 10+ per day to none! These telemarketers would call starting at 7:00am and would call as late as 9:00pm seven days a week! Can you imagine being woken up early on your day off? Interrupted during your dinner time with your family? Or being woken up after you crawl into bed early after a long day at work? We as consumers of telephones should have the choice to not be bothered by some annoying telemarketing company trying to sell me something I do not want. Let's be practable here, how many people really sign up for something over the phone when a telemarketer calls? I am just too upset that I am disturbed during my own time to even talk to them I just hang up. Please, do not weaken Indiana's "no-call list" It has really saved me a lot of headaches and has given me lots of peace and quiet around my house.
